BRYAN RESIGNATION MAKES SENSATION THROUGHOUT PARIS

Paris, June 10.—Great importance is attached by the morning newspapers to the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan from the cabinet of President Wilson. They express the belief that it explains the delay in answering the German reply to the first American note of protest on the sinking of the Lusitania.

WEATHER FORECAST

New Haven, June 10.—Forecast: Fair tonight and Friday, cooler tonight.
Connecticut: Fair tonight and Friday. Light north winds.
An area of high pressure central over the lake region is producing pleasant weather in the central and eastern districts. A well defined disturbance is central over eastern Nebraska. It is causing unsettled, showery weather from the Rocky Mountains eastward to the upper Mississippi valley and from the northern border southward to Kansas. The temperature is rising slowly in the western districts but continues low over the lake region.

LEE SILENT TODAY ON GRAFT CHARGE AGAINST ALDERMEN

Ex-Mayor Startles Voters By Sensational Speech—Raps Administration.

Henry Lee former mayor and former county commissioner, who made a startling charge that he believed aldermen got graft from paving contracts and that because of this that he was instrumental in having created the paving and sewer commission, said today that just now he was not anxious to go further into the general statements made in his speech. Mr. Lee was invited to speak at a meeting of the newly formed commission government league in the board of trade rooms, last evening. He started the gathering when he made the declaration involving aldermen whose names he did not give.

Asked if he would go further into the matter at this time, he told The Farmer to-day:

"There is more that I could say, but just now I don't care to add to what I said last night."

Mr. Lee explained that he attended the meeting to become better informed on the matter of commission government and that he did not expect to be called upon to speak. But when he was invited to address the gathering he spoke of his personal experiences in public life and in paving, on the creation of the paving and sewer commission.

He said in part: "Bridgeport's charter has been so amended and safeguarded that I do not believe that there is any actual taking of money at the present time. "But I do believe that at one time certain aldermen were getting graft money from paving contracts. So certain was I of this, that I even took up the matter with the late Stiles Judson, who was then state's attorney. The necessary legal evidence was not forthcoming, and so the matter never reached the stage of indictments."

MIDDLETOWN RECTOR NAMED SUFFRAGAN IS NOTED FOR ABILITY

Rev. Edward Campion Acheson, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Middletown, who was elected suffragan bishop on the fourth ballot at the annual diocesan convention of the Episcopal church in Connecticut at yesterday's session, has not definitely said that he will accept, but it was generally understood that he is willing to be the suffragan bishop.

The following gives the result of each of the four ballots:

Rev. E. C. Acheson	1	2	3	4
Rev. A. W. Boulton	25	45	52	79
Rev. B. Howell	54	58	49	32
Rev. F. S. Kenyon	6	2	0	0
Rev. F. L. Vernon	19	17	12	7
Rev. J. N. Lewis, Jr.	22	20	16	13
Rev. E. deF. Miel	0	3	2	1

It now only remains for his election to be sanctioned by the house of bishops, as prescribed by the canons. After the convention it was said that the explanation of Mr. Acheson's victory lay in the fact that a majority of the clergy decided upon a Connecticut man for suffragan bishop, and, therefore, withdrew their support of other candidates to enable Mr. Acheson to defeat Mr. Boulton, who led on the first two ballots.

Rev. Edward Campion Acheson has been rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Middletown, for twenty-three years. Mr. Acheson is 56 years old, and was born at Woolwich, England, later removing to Canada where he was graduated from Wyckville College, Toronto. He was also graduated from the University of New York with the degree of Master of Arts. He was ordained June 16, 1888, by Bishop A. Sweatman of Toronto. He is married and has three children.

A close friend yesterday spoke especially of Mr. Acheson's generosity saying that during his service in the Episcopal ministry he has given almost wholly, if not the full amount of his salary to help others, and that he has done inestimable service among the poor of his parish. Mr. Acheson is a member of St. John's Lodge, F. and A. M., Middletown, and has served as grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Connecticut for that order.

Mr. Acheson's executive ability is recognized throughout the state. In his connections with the Episcopal church he has been chairman of the commission on the church pension fund, vice-president of the Berkeley Divinity School at Middletown, besides holding other positions and duties of equal importance. He possesses skill as a musician.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The engagement of Miss Althea May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Stillman May of 388 Clinton avenue and Maturin Waldo, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Curtis Waldo of 207 Golden Hill street, was announced at a luncheon given yesterday to a few of the young woman's friends at the Brooklawn Country club.

Miss May is one of the most prominent younger members of society. She is a member of the Brooklawn Country club and is the fourth member of the Thimble club to announce her engagement since September. Her father, who is president of the Country club, is treasurer of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company. Mr. Waldo is assistant superintendent of the H. O. Canfield company. The guests at the luncheon included the Misses Louise Gould, Alice Pierce, Marian Paige, Barbara Waldo, Minnie Nichols, Edith Riker, Dorothy Tomlinson, Sophie Smith, Henrietta Bishop, Emily Sanford, Dorothy DeLose, Anne Shelton, Josephine Birds-eye, and Mrs. Horace B. Merrill, Mrs. John Field, Mrs. DeVer C. Warner, Mrs. J. Carleton Sterling, Mrs. William Webb, Mrs. Alvin C. Breul and Mrs. Kenneth McNeil.

The open meeting of the English club of Courtland school was held in the chapel of the North church yesterday morning, and was attended by the parents of the children and alumnae of the school. The play, "The Shoes that Danced," which was presented with the permission of the author, Anna Hempstead Branch, was unusually well given by the young people. The play opened and closed with choral singing by the club, with Miss Elizabeth Durand and Miss Mary Cogswell presiding. The members of the graduating class had prepared essays in a very creditable manner which were listened to with great interest by the audience. The program:

Chorus, "Happy Birds," Edward Rolta, The English club.
Essay, Bridgeport as a Manufacturing City, Miss Margaret L. Griffith.
Essay, London in Shakespeare's Time, Miss Margaret L. Griffith.
Essay, Irish Folk-lore and Superstition, Miss Frances R. Hotchkiss.
Chorus, Gypsy Daisies, R. H. Woodman.

Essay, The Effects of the European War Upon the United States, Miss Henrietta Atwater.
Essay, Alaska: Our Frontier Wonderland, Miss Ruth B. Alling.
Dramatic Sketch, "The Shoes that Danced," by Anna Hempstead Branch.
Mrs. Susan Hawley Davis has issued cards for the annual recital of her pupils to be held at the Stratford on Tuesday evening, June 15. Mrs. Davis' pupils from several nearby cities will participate in the recital.

AEROPLANE FIRES HUGE DIRIGIBLE

Berlin, June 10.—The correspondent of the National Zeitung has sent to his newspaper a description of the destruction of the Italian airship Citta Di Ferrara by the Austrian naval aeroplane L-48 while returning from an attack upon Flume the morning of June 8. Reports were received early Tuesday morning, the correspondent says, that a hostile airship had been seen heading toward the sea. The L-48 was sent out to investigate with orders to attack, if possible. The pilot was Marine Lieut. Glaswing while the observer was Marine Cadet Von Fritsch. As soon as the airship was sighted the aeroplane began to ascend and gaining an advantageous position above the airship, it opened fire with a machine gun and a rifle, using a special projectile designed to set balloons on fire. The airship maneuvered wildly in an endeavor to escape. It was descending all the time and finally was almost at sea level.

The men on L-48 continued firing. One of their shots set the Italian airship afire. The hull was burned and the gondola fell into the sea. An Austrian torpedo boat was in the vicinity and in a few moments the two officers and five men composing the crew of the airship had been rescued. None of them was injured and they were made prisoners on board the torpedo boat. Then what was left of the airship went to the bottom.

JANE ADDAMS SEES POPE BENEDICT ON HER PEACE MISSION

Rome, June 10.—Jane Addams, of Chicago, chairman of the special committee by the Women's Peace Conference at The Hague to visit the capitals of Europe in an effort to hasten the end of hostilities, has left Rome for Madrid, whence she will go to France and Belgium. While here Miss Addams was received courteously by Pope Benedict, Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State, Premier Salandra, and others. The ministers of the Italian government listened respectfully to Miss Addams' peace suggestions but gave her little encouragement. At the Vatican especially no secret was made of the fact that the present moment was considered scarcely opportune for such a movement.

Pope Benedict expressed the hope that the initiative for peace would come from Austria and pledged himself to support such a proposal with all the influence of the Holy See.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Jennie Margaret Hawley is to hold the annual recital of her pupils of the piano at the old Sanford home, on Washington avenue, on Thursday afternoon, June 24, at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ethel Poland Hubbard, soprano, will be the soloist for the occasion.

ROBERT LANSING, BRYAN'S IMMEDIATE SUCCESSOR, ONE OF ABLEST STUDENTS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

WILSON, BRYAN and TUMULTY in GROUP - ROBERT LANSING

Immediately that Secretary of State William J. Bryan resigned interest centered in Robert Lansing, the acting secretary of state. Robert Lansing is regarded as one of the ablest students of international law in this country, the private practice of his profession having been augmented in experience by many difficult federal legal commissions, all of which he has executed with credit to himself and to his government. Lansing was born in Watertown, N. Y., on Oct. 17, 1864. He was graduated from Amherst college in the class of 1886 and was admitted to the bar in 1889. The New York lawyer's ability first was recognized in Washington in 1892, when he was made associate counsel for this country in the Bering sea arbitration question. The tact and skill with which he handled this case won for him the position of counsel for the United States Bering sea claims commission in 1896-7. He was also solicitor for the United States Alaskan boundary tribunal in 1892 and represented the North Atlantic coast fisheries interests in the arbitration at The Hague in 1899-10. Last year he was this country's agent on the British-American pecuniary claims commission when that body was in session in Washington. He was nominated on March 21, 1914, to succeed John Bassett Moore as counselor to the department.
